Information About The Venues:

Introduction to Beyond Elite Performance:

We are very excited to offer the Beyond Elite Performance training series this summer in Denmark. The first program in the series, Introduction to Beyond Elite Performance, will be held in Holte, Denmark with Acuity World (<http://www.acuityworld.com>) as our local partners. This program will be non-residential, but the folks at Acuity World will help you in arranging accommodations. Lunch will be served at the program venue, as well as snack and beverages. The venues we're recommending will provide both breakfast and dinner options, or you may make your own arrangement for meals if you prefer.

Patterns of Personal Performance:

This year we are presenting the first of the two consecutive five-day programs, Patterns of Personal Performance, at the Hjalet Conference Center in Hjalet, Denmark on the coast north of Copenhagen (<http://www.hjalet.dk>). This will be a residential training and accommodations include a private room, three full meals a day, plus all snacks and beverages.

This is a beautiful training center suited to both corporate training programs or conferences, as well as perfect for the kind of residential retreat program we'll be running during this week. You'll be treated to a beautiful combination of old world charm and modern amenities, fantastic array of nouveau Danish meals, the grounds are gorgeous and we'll be overlooking the beachfront all week (so bring some swim clothing with you ... and a good supply of suntan lotion).

The fee for your entire five-day accommodation, including room and board, will be only $1120. If you have any special requests let us know when you register and we'll do our best to accommodate your needs and desires. Make sure you stop by their website and take a look for yourself (all the text is in Danish, but the pictures tell the whole story).

Patterns of Personal Transformation:

We'll be running the second five-day consecutive program, Patterns of Personal Transformation, at the Langebaek Retreat Center, about an hour south of Copenhagen. This facility is a charming old farmhouse at the edge of the coast that's been converted into a modern conference center. We will be staying at the Langebaek Retreat Center for the entire program and have designed a residential package for you to stay with us.

Applied Behavioral Technologies, Inc.

The fee for accommodations at the Langebaek Retreat Center is $720 (USD) for full five-days of the program. You'll have a private single room or a shared double room, delicious meals—breakfast, lunch and dinner—and snacks and beverages during the training day. There are a very limited number of single rooms so please register early if this is important for you, these will be available on a first come first served basis.

Participants are welcome to arrive the day before the training begins, however the overnight room, dinner, and the following day's breakfast (20 July), are not included in the accommodations fee and must be paid for separately. The same is true for departing the day after the program ends. The extra night fee is $85. Please contact Nancy Riggio (nsriggio@appliednlp.com or +1 609 275-1845) if you plan to arrive the day before or depart the day after the training ends.

We'll be the sole guests at the Langebaek Retret Center during the Patterns of Personal Transformation training program so we'll have "the run of the house", and we'll take full advantage of that as we build the program activities.

The residential aspect of the two five-day programs will be a wonderful part of your training experience... Inevitably our program participants remark how much the venues we select impact the training experience they've had with us as well as how conducive the training design is to making and building lasting connections with other training participants. You can expect that you will be building fond memories with us ...

For any questions about logistics that you may have, please contact Nancy Riggio at nsriggio@appliednlp.com or +1 609 275-1845.

Information About The Beyond Elite Performance Series Investment:

There are a few points you should know about investing in this series. The series is comprised of the three training programs listed above that each stand alone as an individual training, and are designed to complement one another in the complete series.

If you are interested in your personal and/or professional development the series will take you step-by-step through the process of exploring how you create the outcomes you get and what limits you from getting the one's you don't. Then you'll come to know yourself and your performance patterns in an unprecedented way ... as a consideration of your life and your performances as works of art where you are the composer. The deep distinction in the training series is in how it repositions you to move beyond success to satisfaction, and to a position where creating exquisite performances becomes natural and effortless and where what you do reinforces who you most want to be becoming.

If you are interested in the coaching certification as well you'll find the entire series has been designed to let you in behind the curtain. With each step we take together in the program you'll become more and more aware of what we are doing together and why. You'll also come to know the how so that as you're experiencing the work we're doing for yourself you'll also become aware of how to replicate it with others. The key is that we'll be operating explicitly after the fact so that you become an insider to the work we're doing yourself ... and before we're done a artist with the form itself.

Applied Behavioral Technologies, Inc.

So you get to choose what works for you ... attending an individual program that most appeals to you or fits your schedule, or signing up for the entire series. The one thing you should know is that it's unlikely I'll be running this series again for quite some time ... or possibly ever. So if you're interested pick the option below that suits you best and register now.

The program series brochure contains the details about the individual programs, as well as an overview of the program design and intention. You can view it and download it again here: http://www.josephriggio.com/BEP_2009.pdf

Step Two: Audio and Video Recording Disclosure

Applied Behavioral Technologies, Inc. routinely records all the meeting room audio of ours programs for our libraries as well as for potential public release for training, marketing or other related purposes. From time to time we also video record these programs, which may also be produced for public release. We sometimes receive requests from individual participants that they not appear in the videos and we are very happy to accommodate these requests by establishing an “off camera” seating area. This in no way inhibits the participants viewing or listening experience. It may impact their participation in that they are unwilling to appear in front of the group in expositional exercises lead by the Trainer for the benefit of all the participants but the learning experience of breakout group-exercises is not impacted.

Please check Option-One or Option-Two below:

Option-One:

I understand that audio and/or video recordings of this program will/may be made and I grant my express authority that my physical likeness and voice be captured on video and/or audio media for possible future public release under the sole discretion and control of Applied Behavioral Technologies, Inc.

Option-Two:

I would like to remain off camera during this program and grant express permission that any of my vocal participation will/may be captured for future public release under the sole discretion and control of Applied Behavioral Technologies, Inc.
